

HMRC Calls

Who is really calling me?

Scammers may try to call you pretending to be from government agencies such as HMRC. They can use scare tactics to panic you into giving them the information they want, or convince you to call the number back.

Scam calls to company mobile phones are on the rise. Most claim to be from HMRC, demanding the individual call back on the number provided and threatening legal proceedings if they do not.

If you receive a scam call: stop, think and hang up. Don't call the number back unless you're 100% certain it's legitimate.
